Dear Gastroenterologists at UHS,

I would be grateful if you could see this 47 year old female who has fairly severe reflux. We have tried her on a PPI but it has made no difference and we now need some help. She is a smoker with hypertension and I think would benefit from a gastroscopy. In addition her mother had Barrett's oesophagus and her father had Crohn's disease. She is concerned that she might also have one of these conditions.

Her medication history includes:

- Candesartan 4mg OD
- Ibuprofen 800mg TDS

We would be very grateful if you could assist.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Mbole
